Girl Scouts of Middle Tennessee to Host Annual Outside the Box Fundraiser with Guest Host Whitney Miller

Williamson County, TENN. – Girl Scouts of Middle Tennessee (GSMIDTN) and guest host Whitney Miller will team up to support Williamson County in a delicious way on February 17, 2022.

The sixth annual Outside the Box fundraiser presented by Kroger at The Harpeth Hotel will challenge local restaurants to create unique desserts using Girl Scout Cookies as the main ingredient. Guests will have the opportunity to sample and vote on their favorite creations, all while networking with Williamson County civic and business leaders.

This year's Outside the Box restaurants include Franklin's Cork & Cow, Merridee's Breadbasket, and 1799 Kitchen and Cocktails, Spring Hill's Sugar Magnolia Bakehouse, and Brentwood's Mere Bulles.

Plus, Whitney Miller joins Outside the Box as guest host this year. Miller is the season 1 winner of Fox's reality cooking show, MasterChef, a chef, cookbook author, recipe and menu developer, food stylist, and food judge.

Miller enjoys the variety of opportunities Girl Scouts has to offer, including the entrepreneurship-focused Girl Scout Cookie Program. Girl Scout Cookies allow girls to learn about goal setting, decision making, money management, people skills, and business ethics.

"I love how Girl Scouts helps instill confidence in girls and challenges them to do their best in everything," Miller said.

Girl Scout membership in Williamson County continues to experience exponential growth and currently accounts for more than 20% of GSMIDTN total membership.
